1. 1949-1950

The following table shows the results of the survey conducted in 1949-1950. The data is presented in a tabular format, with columns for various categories and rows for different groups. The table is organized into several sections, each corresponding to a different aspect of the survey. The first section, titled '1. 1949-1950', contains the main data. The second section, titled '2. 1951-1952', contains additional data. The third section, titled '3. 1953-1954', contains further data. The fourth section, titled '4. 1955-1956', contains the final data. The table is organized into several sections, each corresponding to a different aspect of the survey. "The fundamental of a democracy is an alert, far-thinking people. Good minds are everywhere. But good minds, like good muscles, keep in shape by exercise. The schools exercise and develop the young intellect; the libraries are the richest such source for the adult." Are you drawing on the resources of the Department Library and other libraries to keep you an alert, far-thinking citizen and to provide information needed in your work?

SOME NEW BOOKS

HIDDEN HUNGER, by I. G. Macy and H. H. Williams. Cattell, 1945. 286p. 389.1 M252

"This book relates nutrition to history, progress of civilization, and allied scientific fields. A wide variety of food problems are touched--from infant feeding to the dietary problems of feeding an army. The role nutrition will play in establishing a lasting peace is also discussed. This is a good general nutrition book for the teacher, public health worker, and the dietitian." From Nutrition News, December 1945.

PARDNER OF THE WIND, by Jack Thorp as told to Neil M. Clark. Caxton, 1945. 309. 138 T39

Jack Thorp, cattle rancher and poet, might be called a Carl Sandburg of the Southwestern Range. This book of reminiscences gives stories of the cattle trail and roundup, and stories of horses, tells how cowboy songs are created and how they are sung, contains stories typical of Western humor--all told in the pungent and picturesque speech of a man who knew the West.

500 MORE THINGS TO MAKE FOR FARM AND HOME, by G. C. Cook. Interstate, 1944. 471p. 58. C772F

This book has sections on the following subjects: Equipment for the home-farm shop, Metal work, Woodworking and farm carpentry, Farm concrete, Farm plumbing, Electricity for the farm, Handy farm hints. The section on wood-working and farm carpentry has plans for construction procedures, for miscellaneous equipment for the farm and home, for equipment needed for crops, for poultry equipment, for swine equipment, for dairy cattle equipment, for beef cattle equipment, and for sheep equipment.

PERIODICAL NOTES
